Let's Start!

This menu is very long ... Do you need more time?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about food, eating and meals in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can make and accept offers at a restaurant.
- I can order food at a restaurant.
- I can ask for information at a restaurant.

Ask your partner:

- Do you always know what you want to eat at a restaurant? Do you take a long time to decide?
- When do you ask for information about the menu?

Let's Explore!

Peter and Sally want to hear about the specials. Will that be all? Let's find out!

* "Will that be all?" means Is that everything you want to order?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Are we ready to order? I'm starving!
Peter: Let's get someone to help us. Excuse me?
Waitress: Good evening. May I take your order?
Peter: We would like to hear your specials.
Waitress: Tonight we have fish tacos. They are delicious.
Sally: Do you have anything vegetarian?
Waitress: Certainly. Our bean pupusas and corn tamales are very popular.
Sally: That sounds lovely. Could we have one order of each?
Waitress: With pleasure. Will that be all?
Peter: We would love to start with the nachos! To share!
Waitress: Great choice. Let me bring you some spoons and forks.
Sally: Could we also have knives?
Waitress: Of course. Anything else?
Sally: Yes! Where can I get this tablecloth and these napkins? And these plates?
 They are pretty!
Waitress: We get everything from Mexico.
Sally: Vanessa, you know what to get for my next birthday!

Learning Points

Making requests in a restaurant

Going to a restaurant can be a formal situation. It is important to have the proper etiquette, or correct behavior.

When you are the customer, it is important to use modals and expressions when you make a request.

When you work in a restaurant, you use modals and expressions to ask someone if they are ready to order.

	Questions with Modals	Answer
Customer	May I see the menu? Do you have anything vegetarian? Could we have ... ? What are the specials for tonight?	Certainly, Sir/Madam/Miss. Yes, we have ... Tonight, the specials are ... With pleasure.
Waiter/Waitress	Are you ready to order? Would you like to start with ... ? Can I get you some drinks to start? Will that be all?	Yes. I'd like ... I need a few more minutes. Yes, thank you very much.

Examples:

• Waiter: Are you ready to order?

Ann: Yes. I'd like to start with some appetizers, please.

• Ann: Excuse me, we'd like to hear your specials.

Waiter: Certainly. Tonight we have fish tacos.
